Ages and stages: what to expect

June 5th, 2013

Hollyburn Family Services is excited to present a lecture series on parenting issues spanning the key developmental stages from preschool through the teen years.

The lectures feature Christopher Burt, a well known and respected parenting expert and presenter. Christopher will be speaking about issues that affect parents of preschool, elementary and teenage children. His lectures will be based on his model of Intentional Parenting - a philosophy that helps parents understand the different areas in which they can influence their children that supports wanted behavior and strengthens their connection with their child. Intentional Parenting helps parents see their influence in the context of the unique relationship they have with their children, rather than simply reacting to challenging behaviour. This series is presented with the support of the North Shore Jewish Community Centre.

Admission for each lecture is $20 per person or $35 per couple ($15 per person or $25 per couple for NSJCC members). Lectures begin at 7:00 pm and are presented at the North Shore Jewish Community Centre located at 1305 Taylor Way in West Vancouver. Light refreshments will be served.
